GREEK KING WILL GIVE ALLIES THE GUNS THEY DEMAND

Constantine Yields to Admiral du Fourmet and Clash Ends.

ARMISTICE IS AGREED UPON

Members of Cabinet and Entente Diplomats Get Together in an Effort to Reach an Amicable Settlement; Many Civilians Killed in Fighting.

By Associated Press.

ATHENS, via London, Dec. 2.—The king of Greece has agreed to give to the artillery demanded by Admiral du Fourmet. The Allied troops are withdrawing from Greece.

An Entente diplomat informed the Associated Press correspondent that the king of Greece had agreed to the withdrawal of his troops after King Constantine had agreed to surrender six batteries of mounted artillery to the Allies. The Allied forces are already leaving the Zappelon, only 200 remaining as a guard.

The French legion, which was guarded by French marines, was fired upon during the crisis. The Greek military authorities assert that the firing was done by rowdies. Secretary Bridgman of the British legation was arrested in the street by a Greek patrol and taken to a police station where he was instantly released.

On the intervention of the Spanish and Dutch ministers the entire cabinet and the Entente diplomats met at the French legation at 8 o'clock this evening to discuss the possibility of an agreement. The armistice was finally arranged and the firing ceased. The number of casualties is not known, but many civilians are known to have been killed.

ROYAL PALACE, ATHENS, via London, Dec. 2.—Vice Admiral du Fourmet telephoned to Premier Lambros at 2 P. M. suggesting an armistice. Before word could reach the Greek despatches on the line had broken again. A French effort to storm the wireless station on Observatory Hill was repulsed at the point of bayonets. An armistice finally was effected.

The premier came to the palace at 2.30 P. M. to seek final instructions from the king before conferring with Vice Admiral du Fourmet. While he was in the palace fighting began again. The French force in the Zappelon consisting of 2,000 marines under personal charge of the vice admiral fired on two passing Greek officers. The Greeks called the artillery line with the king who was watching the fight from the garden. Immediately ordered that the firing cease. Two Greek colonels were killed.

At 5 o'clock the fleet began firing on the hills just back of the palace. The crown prince and the other princes are with their regiments.

WAR DEPARTMENT IS NOT ALARMED

Reports From Border Do Not Indicate That Jurek Is Menaced by Mexicans.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Two overnight dispatches from Brigadier General Bell at El Paso, containing the first information to reach the War Department from army border officials concerning Villa's victorious attack on Chihuahua City were received today. After a careful study of the reports it was stated authoritatively that the information contained nothing that could be construed as an increased menace to the American border or that threatened the safety of Jurek.

The reports were based upon information obtained by General Bell from refugees reaching El Paso from Chihuahua City.

General Trevino, the Carranza commander at Chihuahua City was said to have about 6,000 soldiers while the strength of the Villa forces was estimated at from 2,500 to 3,000 men.

URGES FOOD BOYCOTT

Head of New York Mayors' Conference Asks Officials to Lead Fight.

By Associated Press.

TROY, N. Y., Dec. 2.—President Burns of the state mayors' conference today placed in the hands of all mayors in New York state a "call to action" in the matter of food prices. After finding that "conditions exist in this state by reason of which unvarnished and oppressive prices are demanded," the call continues:

"In the absence of adequate laws controlling conditions and practices that enable men unjustly to enhance market prices, it is believed by those who know the situation best that the remedy lies largely with the people themselves. This in substance is that they make a temporary sacrifice by abstaining from the use of the articles for which extortionate prices are demanded by refusal to purchase supplies at extortionate prices."

BIG RACES ARE ON THE PROGRAM

Many Automobile Parties Go Through on Way to the Speedway; Weather Is Ideal.

Scores of automobiles passed through Connellsville this morning on their way to Uniontown to attend the races at the Speedway this afternoon. Indications were that a large crowd would attend, notwithstanding the slip-up in the original plans to hold the races on Thanksgiving Day. The weather was fine.

Elimination trials Thursday and Friday resulted in the action in the stock Universal cup trophy race being reduced to 14 and in the dealers' race to five. A fireworks display conducted by Antonio Bufano of Dunbar started the day's program at 9 o'clock.

At noon Hughes Hughes was scheduled to make a mile exhibition run in his 12 cylinder Studebaker and at 1 o'clock the same driver was to make another run, this time of five miles. A parade and introduction of drivers was scheduled for 1.30 P. M.

At 2 o'clock, the big event of the day, the Universal trophy race, was scheduled to start. The drivers were to circle the bowl 100 times for a distance of 12 1/2 miles. At the completion of this Hughes Hughes was scheduled to make a 10 mile exhibition drive in an attempt to lower the world's record for a board track.

The drivers' race was scheduled to be pulled off at the completion of this race.

The Connellsville Military Band left for the speedway this morning. The local musicians will play throughout the day at the big bowl.

About 20 members of company D went to Uniontown to do police duty along the pike and at the oval.

MAY BE STRYCHNINE VICTIM

Contents of Bottle Will be Analyzed to Determine Nature of the Drug, Which Should Contain Harmless Antidote; Condition Reported Improved.

Special to The Courier.

UNIONTOWN, Dec. 2.—Mrs. Elma B. Mahaney, assistant chief clerk in the county commissioners' office and one of the best known women in Fayette county, is reported to be in a critical condition at her home, 74 South Galatin avenue, as a result of taking poison in mistake for headache medicine yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Mahaney complained of a headache last evening and about 5.45 o'clock, just before she left the commissioners' office for the day, she took a dose of what she supposed to be a headache remedy from a bottle she kept in her desk. Noticing a peculiar taste to the medicine, she stopped at the drug store at which she had bought it to inquire what was in it. When she arrived at her home, her condition became alarming and Dr. A. E. Crow was summoned. He found her apparently suffering from the effects of strychnine poisoning. Her condition was reported to be somewhat improved at noon today.

Dr. Crow as yet has not analyzed the preparation. It is known to contain acetanilid, but no strychnine. At the commissioners' office the announcement was made that Mrs. Mahaney was ill and would not be at the office today.

Mrs. Mahaney was formerly Miss Louise Hadden and is a sister of Mrs. William McClelland, wife of the former probate judge, and of Mrs. Joseph W. Crow, of the Citizens' Title & Trust Company of Uniontown.

GRAND JURY TO PASS ON BRIDGE

Hearing on Proposed New Span at South Connellsville Next Friday.

The December grand jury which convenes next week is expected to take definite action for or against the proposed bridge across the Yough at South Connellsville and the new public road in Dunbar township which is part of the "Direct-to-Dunbar" movement agitated for some months past by P. J. Flynn of South Connellsville, one of the leaders in the movement to secure the South Connellsville bridge, stated today that the grand jury would likely take up the bridge case next Friday.

A number of witnesses from Connellsville, South Connellsville and Dunbar township will be heard. A board of viewers has already approved the project but the favorable action by the grand jury and the court are lacking. If the grand jury lends its approval to the project, the possibility is that the court will enter no objection.

The span over the Yough at South Connellsville would provide a new route to Dunbar and perhaps result in a shorter and more direct road from Connellsville to Uniontown. Improvements at Fayette—the Western Maryland yards and the proposed electric steel mill on Ford bottom—are advanced as reasons why the bridge is a necessity. Changes in West Penn tracks at Fayette to make room for the Western Maryland yards depend a good deal upon whether or not the new bridge is approved. If the bridge were erected, it is expected the West Penn would divert its main line to Uniontown by way of Dunbar.

WANTS TOWN TO TAKE SCHOOL AS NEW CITY HALL

Captain E. Dunn Suggests Using Money Saved to Dam Yough.

OLD BUILDING FOR FIREMEN

According to Advocate of River Beautification, His Plan Would Mean a Saving of $75,000. Solve Yough Problem and Enable Carrying Out Program.

The proposal that City Council acquire the old Fourth Ward school building from the School Board and convert it into a city hall was made today by Captain Edmund Dunn, who declared that the money thus saved would give the city ample funds to properly dam the Yough, a proposition in which he has been vitally interested for years, and the achievement of which is virtually assured through the promise of a former Connellsville man to hear half of the expense.

This suggestion of Captain Dunn came as a result of a talk at the recent conference of the playground enthusiasts, in which Councilman John Dugan called attention to the fact that a new city hall must be erected in the near future. Mr. Dugan advocates a new municipal building and the conversion of the present city hall into a combined fire and police station.

Mr. Dugan pointed out, in his informal discussion, the need of a central fire station.

"They say we are hogging things on the West Side," he remarked. "That is not true. We are just as anxious for a central fire station as anybody, but we do not believe in spending a lot of money on an arrangement which would be both temporary and unsatisfactory. The present city hall is not adequate. It is poorly constructed and the location is against it. You can't transact serious business with half a dozen engines blowing off steam right under the windows."

Mr. Dugan said at the meeting that the location he favors for a new city hall is somewhere on Crawford avenue between Brimstone Corner and the Elks' Home.

Captain Dunn believes that the Fourth Ward school could, at small expense, be remodelled to make a perfectly satisfactory municipal building, and it has the added advantage of being a part of the civic center of the community. The captain is enthusiastic about using the school property, but he announced that any project to use a portion of the library grounds for this purpose would have to be carried over his dead body.

The use of the library grounds was suggested during the discussion of a new city hall site which came up at the playgrounds meeting. One of the members of the School Board offered the idea as an alternative for taking the school site, on which it is proposed to erect a playground.

BRITISH CHANGES LIKELY.

LONDON, Dec. 2.—Rumor is still busy with reports of changes in the Cabinet or at any rate in the war council as a result of the agitation for more forceful conduct of the war. The general impression is that a smaller war council with the infusion of new blood is contemplated but nothing definite has yet been announced.

Premier Asquith had a conference with the King this morning but whether it had to do with contemplated changes in the organization or what the House of Commons will face next week is problematical.

FIREMAN WALKS TO CONVENTION

Swissvale Volunteer Boats R to Meranton and Does 2,400 Miles Through New England.

Daniel McAllister of Swissvale, the "walking delegate" of the Swissvale fire department, left Connelville last night after spending several days here as the guest of local firemen. He was on the last lap of a 2,500 mile walking trip from Swissvale to the state firemen's convention at Saratoga, and thence through the New England states. He had covered 2,400 miles on foot when he arrived in Connelville, and it hadn't hurt him any.

McAllister just naturally likes to walk. He isn't carrying the world on his back and he doesn't sell postcards or solicit financial aid. When he goes on a trip he has enough money to finance it. He doesn't even care for the notoriety that comes to him from his walking trips.

McAllister walked to Connelville in 1904, to attend the firemen's convention. He was not at that time a member of the fire department. Since joining the firemen, he has walked to every annual convention of the Western Pennsylvania Firemen's Association, including that in Connelville in 1914.

The walking delegate can make 50 miles if the roads are good and the days long enough. Just now he has to be satisfied with 40 miles a day, because it gets dark so early. Before leaving Swissvale on September 11, he was presented with a pair of special walking shoes. If he came back still wearing them he was to receive $30. McAllister has had the shoes half-soled nine times and he says they will stand two more such treatments. He left Connelville last night for Vanderbilt to visit friends. He planned to return by way of Monaca and the other river towns.

SATURDAY EVENING, DEC. 2, 1916.

AS A MATTER OF COURSE.

If the United Press is so omnipotent, infallible, indiscreet and unfailing a collector of news as we are asked to believe it to be, why may we ask, did our contemporary fail to have at least a bulletin in its issue of yesterday concerning the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission removing the 15 cent differential against

Eastern coal shipments from the Connelleville coke region?

This much boasted news gathering organization is presumed to have an office in Washington, whence Interstate Commerce Commission news emanates, but in this instance it failed to secure this important story, or if it did have it, there was a still more lamentable failure to realize its news value to the great Connelleville coke region. The information, which was given to the public exclusively by The Courier, constitutes the most important item of news affecting the Connelleville region which has been published during the past quarter of a century or longer.

The decision, which the enterprise of The Courier enabled it to present to the people of the Connelleville coke region, marked the partial cessation of an effort on part of the merchant operators to preserve to the region its identity and importance as one of the greatest fuel producing centers in the world. It recorded the elimination of those arbitrary freight district lines which had held the Connelleville region at an almost ruinous trade disadvantage in marketing raw coal. It therefore became an event of the most vital significance and importance, commercially and industrially, to the coke operators directly and to every workman, merchant or other resident of the coke region indirectly.

Incidentally while recording this

"scoop," which gave its readers the biggest news item of the day, The Courier published information relating to the decision of the trustees of the Cottage State Hospital to make important improvements that will increase the efficiency of this institution and be the means of saving the state appropriation—another story to which our contemporary was a total stranger. Diligent search of its columns also failed to reveal any reference to that impressive and beautiful memorial service which members of the Elks fraternally held for their deceased brethren on the first Sunday of December in each year.

A score of these "beats" in one day to its credit, not to mention the recent

"electric steel mill story and others, has not surprised the readers of The Courier. They are so accustomed to these and other evidences of its enterprise and the excellence and widespread character of its news gathering service that they take them merely

as a matter of course.

EARLY SHOPPING.

Early Shopping is urged upon the buyers of Christmas goods for two very excellent and worthy reasons. On behalf of the buyers themselves it is urged because of the greater convenience and comfort they will enjoy in making their purchases before the late rush of the season comes on. It will allow better opportunities and more time for making selections at a time when stocks are full and complete.

On behalf of store employees early shopping is urged in order that the excessive crowding and rush of customers, which heretofore have marred the closing days of the season, may be avoided thereby enabling employees to text of the rules go but few traffic men will deny that these rules are so much better observed in the breach than in the observance that they have become almost obsolete. At any rate they have not served the purpose of securing a prompt return to the owning company of its cars.

Another possible objection on part of the railroads would be the expense involved. The conduct of a general car control agency would call for the employment of a large force of men involving a large expenditure, which the railroads would have to meet. This would add to the already rapidly mounting costs of the transportation service, and possibly out of proportion to the benefits derived.

The Interstate Commerce Commission might itself interpose objections to the plan as tending to usurp some of its functions, but the present temper of this body would indicate that it would lend official sanction to any arrangement permissible under the law that will insure a relief to both the public and the railroads from the periodical congestions growing out of an unregulated movement of cars. The public will no less gladly welcome any reasonable or proper measure that will result in a permanent improvement of the transportation service.

THE DISCORDANT NOTES.

With the near approach of Christmas when its kindly spirit is hungered for by every human heart among the Christian people of the earth, how out-of harmony are those notes that come from capitals of the warring countries of Europe!

From London comes the declaration by Lord Northcliffe that any suggestion of peace "will be hostile to Great Britain."

In Berlin the edict has been issued to enter upon a new and still more virulent submarine campaign.

Standing at the head of his father in Vienna Charles I, the new emperor of Austria, declares it his "inflexible purpose to maintain the war."

Alas for the hope of "Peace on Earth and Good Will Toward Men!"

Senator Hoke Smith, with a frankness that is rare in Democratic orators in dealing with the tariff, admits that the tariff is not a tariff, but a tariff to revenue only, but for the welfare and protection of such Democratic nations as were in need of it. This leaves the Democrats an excuse for not providing real protection for all sections.

The competition is open to all to give a recipe for scrambling the egg trust.

Speaker Champ Clark is tempting fate when he declares his purpose to cut down the gallery space, to cut out oratory and abolish the Congressional Record in order that the legislative state may be cleaned by March 1st.

This is a blow at the most ancient and most highly prized prerogative of congressmen who love to strut about and spread.

Don't forget a packet of Red Cross stamps when making your Christmas purchases.

Connellsville has very well on the initial collection for the war sufferers of Europe on Thanksgiving Day, but they will need to add very materially before the 24th before they measure up to their previous records in giving to the worthy objects which have appealed to their generosity.

Unhappily, not to say pleased, with the success of their endeavor on high priced eggs, the merchants, backed by the declared war on high priced eggs and butter.

He has kept us out of war with the great nations of Europe, who don't want to fight us, but the poor little

Dominican Republic, we permit it to speak the truth, would it were the present state as one of profound peace. An overwhelming force of American soldiers has taken possession of the island for the purpose of breaking a deadlock in the legislative process, the Dominican Republic, backed by the strong arm of Uncle Sam's soldiers, must be obedient. Of course this is not war, not even warlike.

The Smiths here could well afford to be thankful for their Thanksgiving dinner.

Not content with making their land a devoted waste Germany is now en-of motor now driven by gasoline. The results have been so satisfactory that a laboratory will for the manufacture of the liquid in a large scale is soon to be erected.

From the results so far attained Mr.

Ford feels that the use of denatured alcohol will bring about a revolution in the use of liquid fuels in the industry. The abandoned brewery plant, in prohibition territory can be converted to the manufacture of alcohol without changing any of their present machinery. Mr. Ford declared, "A continuous still alone must be added to their equipment."

"Millions of dollars," declared Mr.

Ford today, "are invested in these plants. Economically it would be a shameless waste to have them become idle. But there is no reason why they should become an idly standard bearing plant anywhere can be transformed into a power plant. It is possi-

SCOTSDALE, Dec. 2.—Scotsdale has fewer poor people to take care of this year than at any other time for many years. The committee of the Associated Charities gave the reason that there was plenty of work, that people who usually found work one or two days a week and needed help were working all of the time and that the good weather had helped wonderfully as it was not necessary to help out on coal and clothing. Lots of shoes have been furnished but this was really the most sent out. Some Thanksgiving baskets were sent out and it was stated that the Associated Charities always did more at Christmas than at any other time, but every year to be investigated thoroughly before anything is given out.

Chemung Kept American Flag Flying Until U Boat Sent Her to Bottom

S. S. CHEMUNG, SUNK BY SUBMARINE

The Chemung, sunk by a German or Austrian submarine off the Spanish coast, was an American steamship built at Buffalo in 1893 and was bought by her present owners, the Harvey Steamship Company, in April. She sailed from New York on November 8 with a general cargo and put into the Azores two weeks later for coal. She was due to arrive at Genoa on November 29, the agents said.

The steamship carried 45 men all told and was commanded by Captain John L. Duffy. Ten of these, including the captain, are Americans. She was of 3,022 gross tonnage and was 327 feet long.

Some of the items in the manifest of the Chemung, filed at the custom house, were 5,700 plates of spelter, 364 tons of pig iron, 300 coils of copper wire, 36 barrels of copper, 200 bales of cotton, 163 cases of iron wire and quantities of provisions. There was no ammunition or powder on her manifest.

The circumstances of the sinking have aroused widespread interest. The German commander gave orders that the American flag should be lowered, and German sailors prepared to put the order into effect. They met with stubborn resistance on the part of the American Captain Duffy and his crew, who refused to haul down the colors, saying that if the ship had to be sunk it should be with the American flag flying.

Captain Duffy maintained his ground and so rapidly were the preparations to sink the Chemung made that further discussion about the flag ceased, and after the captain and crew had been taken aboard the submarine a torpedo and three shells sent against the side of the American ship sent her to the bottom.

Although angry at the action of the German commander, Captain Duffy and his men had some measure of satisfaction in seeing the flag at the masthead as the sea finally engulfed their ship.

The crew of 24 found a place in two lifeboats and after a time on the open sea were picked up by a Spanish steamer, which took them to Valencia. Captain Duffy has made a long report of the incident to the American consul at Valencia, John R. Putnam.

A COMPREHENSIVE REVIEW OF TRADE CONDITIONS ISSUED

Trade Commission Prepares Report on Foreign Commerce.

AMERICAN COOPERATION ASKED

Commercial Competition from Europe Not to Come Until Some Time after the Conclusion of Peace, It Is Reported: The South American Trade.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—In the most comprehensive review of foreign trade conditions ever prepared by any governmental agency, the Federal Trade Commission today expressed opinion that the much discussed after-the-war commercial competition from Europe will not be likely to come for some time after the conclusion of peace.

High costs of raw materials, increased taxes, probably higher wages, to say nothing of the capital and stocks of material necessary to replace the wastages of war, the report says, are expected to delay the full power of European competition until it regains its normal state.

Laws to put the American exporter on a footing with his foreign rival by authorization of collective foreign selling agencies are recommended. A brief summary of the report made public last May, while it still was incomplete, recommended such legislation and was followed by introduction of the Webb Bill which still awaits action and has the endorsement of the administration.

In studying the export situation, the Trade Commission, it is declared, has tried to take the problem in its broad historical aspect, considering the present was as a temporary interlude, the permanent influence of which it is difficult to estimate.

"It is frequently asserted," says the report, "that manufacturers and producers of the belligerent countries will take effective measures to regain their former trade. It is likely, however, that some time will pass after the close of the war before they will be able to exert their normal competitive power. Much capital, including large stocks of material, will be needed to restore the wastages of war. For some time, also, after peace is declared their costs of manufacture are likely to be higher in many lines of industry than before the war, due to increased costs of raw material, increased taxes and possibly higher wages.

"In their struggle to regain their former trade such foreign manufacturers and producers may be expected to fully utilize their highly efficient organizations for the promotion and handling of trade beyond their borders, even foregoing profits or taking a very low profit till their costs again become normal and they have again shaken their trade. Hence, competition from foreign industrial combinations, aided by foreign ship lines and foreign banks, and backed by foreign governments, may be even sharper than before the war."

The commission does not consider co-operation as the most important factor in foreign trade, but it considers it an important and necessary element in any effective plan.

"Three important considerations," it says, "are involved in this problem. These are, first, the presence of concerted action among the foreign competitors of American exporters abroad; second, the probable effect of similar action by American manufacturers in foreign trade, including its possible disadvantages to domestic consumers and smaller competitors; and, third, the effect of the present laws of this country upon such co-operation on the part of American manufacturers."

It is apparent, the report sets forth, that the country's organization for export trade must be strengthened if its manufacturers and producers are to compete on more nearly equal terms in the world's commerce. Of possible dangers to American consumers it says:

"The commission believes that the advantages to be gained by effective co-operation in foreign markets need not entail any sacrifice of the firmly established policy of this country in regard to the maintenance of fair competitive conditions and the prohibition of monopolistic control within the United States. At the same time co-operation for export trade will enable the exporting manufacturer to realize an increased return for his products along with decreased costs through larger scale production, and the country will enjoy greater industrial stability resulting from a broader market."

The present laws, the report says, in many cases as they stand operate to prevent formation of co-operative organizations for export trade. Change must be made, it says, to relieve the manufacturer of even doubt as to their application in foreign trade organizations, but leaving them as at present to protect the domestic consumer.

At the Theatres

SOISSON THEATRE.

"THE REVOLT"—Frances Nelson and Arthur Ashley appear at the Soisson Theatre today in the five reel drama, "The Revolt." Can a stepmother ruin a happy home? Now that you have seen pictured on the screen all the devastation that a mother-in-law can do in a happy home, come and see what a nagging stepmother can do. In "The Revolt," the big Broadway success which was Helen Ware's great national success, Frances Nelson and Arthur Ashley are the happy couple. How the girl's reputation is nearly wrecked and later saved by a friend forms the basis of a strong and stirring society drama, not of the usual triangle variety, but one which, from every angle, is different from the rest. "The Revolt," a two reel imp drama, "Her Chance," a Rex drama. Monday, Grace Darling in the series, "Beatrice Fairfax," Grace Darling and Ralph Kellard in the thrilling serial, "The Shielding Shadow," No. 6. Tuesday, Richard Travers in the five reel drama, "The Man Trail."

THE PARAMOUNT.

"SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE"—A Triangle Ray-Bee drama, with Louise Glaum in the leading role, and a Keystone comedy, "A Calico Vampire," presenting Fay Tincher, are being presented today. "Somewhere in France," adapted from Richard Harding Davis' story of the same name and presenting Miss Glaum, as its principal character Marie Chaudmont, daughter of a German spy, who becomes a spy herself through sheer love of intrigue and adventure. Possessed of a subtle charm, she is eminently fitted for the work assigned her by her employer, which is to invade military secrets from susceptible young French officers. Her first victim is her lover, Henri Ravignac, from whom she steals some valuable plans of the outer defenses of Paris, leaving him to face court martial and ruin. Condemned, he cannot bear the disgrace and ends his life soon as his sentence is pronounced. Marie, who looks with contempt on all men who serve her purpose, is unmoved by the tragedy, and continues to advance in her chosen secret profession. Henry Ravignac before his death confided the identity of his betrayer to his brother, Charles, who vows to pursue the spy to the ends of the earth and rescue the family name from dishonor. Miss Glaum is ably supported by Edward Hickman and other well known Triangle stars. Monday, Lionel Barrymore and Grace Valentine will appear in "The Brand of Cowardice," a five part Metro production. Tuesday, Louise Huff with Lotta Pickford will be featured in "The Howard of Patience," a Famous Players attraction in five acts. Wednesday, Norma Talmadge will be starred in "Fifty-Fifty," a story of a girl, who struggles in a love-seeking set of Bohemians. Thursday, William Russell in "The Love Hazard" will be the attraction, and on Friday, Edna Goodrich will be seen in "The House of Lies." Saturday, Bessie Barriscale will be featured in "A Corner in Cottons."
